

G. T. FOX CROSSES DIVIDE

Was One of This County's Most Widely Known and Best Beloved Citizens

G. T. Fox died at his home in this city Thursday morning from a stomach trouble from which he had been a sufferer for years. Mr. Fox passed his 82nd year August last. He was married to Miss Annie Chenault in 1870 and from this union there were four children. Thomas, deceased; David, Mrs. G. W. Stoner and William, deceased, and is survived by his wife and two children, David and Mrs. Stone.

Mr. Fox was a native of Madison county. The most of his life was spent on the farm, and in this vocation he was very successful, at the time of his death being the owner of about 800 acres of choice Montgomery county land. Mr. Fox was always modest, reserved and a very popular citizen, correct in all of his dealings. Many years ago he became identified with the Christian church of this city and made a consistent member. By the death of Mr. Fox is the removing of another landmark. Of him it is said by all, he was a just man.

The funeral service was held at his late home on High street Friday afternoon by Rev. Clyde Darsie, assisted by B. W. Trimble, and the remains were buried in Macphelah Cemetery.

As an honest man none were truer to the principles of justice than he was, as a moral man his life was a worthy example, and as a business man he was energetic and correct. The world would be better were there more like him.

GROWTH OF BUSINESS AT POSTOFFICE

First year, Postmaster Turner was in office there were 794 registrars; in the last six months there have been 1,400.

Sent out 6,112 insured packages since July 1 and up to December 22, 1919. When Postmaster Turner went into office, were averaging less than 20 money orders a day. The average now is more than 50 per day.

Averaged 50 or 60 sacks of mail to each train since December 18, 1919, containing at least an average of 15 packages to the sack.

Railway mail clerks say mail comes out of the Mt. Sterling post-office properly labeled and in first-class condition.

Of the immense amount of packages received the past week for city or rural delivery every one was delivered the day it was received. The first-class mail was also heavier than heretofore and it was all delivered the day it was received.

Postmaster Turner and force have worked every day for the past ten days, Sundays included, from 7 A. M. to 8 or 9 P. M., and had a wagon running all the time during the holidays delivering Christmas packages.

The Mt. Sterling postoffice is requisitive office for 142 third and fourth-class offices and auditing office for 18.

The postal receipts of the office have increased $600 to $700 a year since Postmaster Turner took charge.

The postoffice has sold thousands of W. S. Stamps and Certificates, Internal Revenue and Proprietary Stamps.

There is some work ahead for the postmaster and his force and they can and will do it promptly.

Speaks volumes for the postal service and the local office.

An interesting collection of relics, owned by Mrs. Gillaspie, was displayed, after which the social hour was enjoyed.

The Country Women's Club has decided to take up for the rest of the year's work the study of Kentucky history from the time of Daniel Boone to the present date.

She was a member of the Mount Pleasant Christian church in Madison county and loved her church, and was possessed with an estimable Christian spirit, delighting in the happiness and joys of others and sorrowing with those who sorrow. Hers were serving hands in perfect accord with a heart of love. Grace be to those who sorrow.

WHAT WILSON DEMANDS

The workman demands an adequate wage, sufficient to permit him to live in comfort, unhampered by the fear of poverty and want in his old age. He demands the right to live and the right to work amidst sanitary surroundings, both in home and in workshop, surroundings that develop and do not retard his own health and well being; and the right to provide for his children's wants in the matter of health and education. In other words, it is his desire to make the conditions of his life and the lives of those dear to him tolerant and easy to bear—Woodrow Wilson, in the President's message to Congress December 2.

In the above, of which the capitals are ours, the President shows plainly that it is every man's duty to guard against want in his old age. It was not his province to point out the particular way in which man should save. But saving is the only way to guard against these terrors of old age—want and poverty. Systematic saving and wise investing of the savings is a necessity. War Savings Stamps for small savers and Treasury Savings Certificates for large ones offers the best and safest investment that the U. S. government can devise.

"FRAUD, CONSPIRACY, CORRUPTION!"

With the help of Senator Newberry's vote the Republican senators of the Sixty-sixth Congress organized the Senate, selected the chairman and a majority of the members of all committees, controlled and directed the course of legislation and forced the rejection of the treaty of peace and the League of Nations.

The methods by which Senator Newberry was chosen a senator from Michigan and a member of the Senate's Republican majority are to be determined by criminal prosecutions, which have already been initiated by the indictment of 134 persons—including Senator Newberry himself. In support of these indictments there has been submitted evidence of fraud, conspiracy, corruption and debauchery without precedent in American history. It is alleged that not less than $500,000, and perhaps even $1,000,000 was paid for this crime against the ballot.

At the beginning of the special session of Congress—when the Republican majority in the Senate was "packing" committees and preparing to defeat the treaty and the League of Nations—there was a general demand that the Senate investigate the charges lodged against the managers of Senator Newberry's campaign. There was even then warrant for action that would either vindicate Senator Newberry and the Senate, or punish the corruptinists and purge the Senate. It was admitted under oath by Mr. Newberry's managers that they had disbursed in his behalf $176,568, in contravention of the laws of Michigan and the federal statutes.

But the Republican members of the United States Senate made no response to these demands. They made no move to exculpate Mr. Newberry, to preserve the good name of the Senate or to protect the rights of voters. Instead, they accepted the vote and assistance of Mr. Newberry and seemingly welcomed him as the margin of one by which they dominated public and party affairs in the Senate for six months of the special session.

At last this Republican majority will have to act. Indictments based on evidence have corroborated public opinion regarding the need of an investigation and have forced the United States Senate to determine once for all whether Senatorial seats are purchasable. Meantime the nation's attention is focused on the Republican majority, which for half a year has refused to question the practices of those who promoted Senator Newberry's campaign. The disclosures will force a scrutiny of the whole career of this Republican majority during the pendency of the treaty of peace and the League of Nations. It will raise the question, whether a Senatorial vote in furthering a program of obstruction and reaction was more important than the honesty of elections, the sanctity of popular government and the honor of the United States Senate.

With the Republican majority—which, by its preponderance and its command in the Senate, has the larger share of responsibility—now wait for the courts to decide the fitness or unfitness of a United States Senator? Will Republican leaders in the Senate take refuge in the excuse that a jury must do what they had a chance, a need, and an occasion to do any time these six months?

"STOP BUYING LUXURIES," IS HIGH COST ANTIDOTE

Women of Illinois will lead the campaign against the high cost of living. A woman is to take charge of the entire State organization being formed to batter down prices. Her powers, it is expected, will be even greater than those of Major A. A. Sprague, fair price commissioner for the State of Illinois.

Mrs. Maud R. Turley, organizer of the woman's division, issued her first communication to the women of her State last week.

"Stop buying," she said. "Refuse to pay luxury prices and unreasonable costs for the common food-stuffs."

"Buy only what is absolutely necessary now."

"Stop eating dollar-a-dozen eggs, and 90-cent butter."

"Postpone purchase of the fur coat and expensive suit for the present and watch prices tumble."

"You are ninety per cent. of the purchasing power in Illinois. Use that power this minute and watch the results while you carry out your order plans."

vation of the government. Millions of persons who had never owned a government bond bought because they were patriotic.

Many of these purchasers bought on the installment plan, and when they buckled down and made the final payment they found they were in possession of dollars that they would never have had had they not learned lessons in saving and economy that they never thought of when they made the investment. And every time that an interest day rolled around and they received their dividends, they thought better of what they had done.

Then millions began buying Treasury Savings Certificates and they added to their holding of Liberty Bonds when some one less fortunate than they were forced to let go of their bonds and sell them at a sacrifice.

This Christmas there are going to be many presents made in every State in the Union that will be issued by Uncle Sam. These Treasury Savings Certificates in denominations of $1,000 and $100 and Savings Stamps in $5.00 denominations, and the Thrift Stamps in the denomination of 25 cents covers so wide a range that every class may take advantage. A present of these securities are such that will bring joy at the time it is received, and will increase in value every day.

In any event, the Republican bosses of Congress have made a separate peace with the pro-Germans.

AN IDEAL XMAS PRESENT

From every section of the United States this December comes word from the bankers announcing that depositors are not drawing out their surplus funds for the purpose of making Christmas presents to the extent that has prevailed in former years.

Bankers in all of the financial centers agree that this may be attributed to the lessons that have been taught by the war and the conditions arising from it. The United States Treasury Department is in a measure, probably more than any other agency responsible for this.

When the Liberty Loan campaign was on the Treasury Department urged the people in all classes to buy these bonds. The purchase of them was necessary for the preser-

KEEP WAR RISK INSURANCE

It is regrettable that so many former service men are not keeping up their government life insurance issued through the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in Washington. The fact seems to be due largely to widespread confusion and lack of information as to the right of former service men to permanent government life insurance, and the process by which this insurance may be retained.

The demobilization of our armed forces was so rapid and was attended by such uncertainty on the part of service men as to future civil occupations and permanent places of abode that it was not surprising that many of the men gave little thought to the matter of insurance. Others doubtless thought the original term insurance (War-time Insurance) ceased when they were demobilized and did not know it might be converted into any one of the several forms of permanent government life insurance (converted insurance). Still others, immediately upon their return to civil life, felt financially unable to continue the insurance. They should now take advantage of the liberal provisions for reinstatement.

The government is determined that no former service man shall lose his right to government insurance thru lack of knowledge of conditions. To this end the press, the pulpit, bankers, physicians and other professional men, and the great volunteer agencies of social welfare like the Red Cross, the Y. M. C. A., the Knights of Columbus, the Y. M. H. A., the Salvation Army, the War Camp Community Service, the Boy Scouts, and many others are now co-operating with the Bureau of War Risk Insurance in an educational campaign designed to reach the former service men, wherever located, and tell them the government is now committed to the policy of permanent life insurance for its soldiers, sailors and marines.

Term insurance (War-time Insurance), if it has lapsed, may be easily reinstated within eighteen months from the date of discharge, by stating in the application that the applicant is in as good health as at date of discharge, and by the payment of only two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated. And this term insurance (War-time Insurance), may be converted into one of several forms of government policies.

A CHRISTMAS RESOLUTION

He hadn't been out of his uniform long enough to get used to the way his legs felt without the old "puttees" on them. But he had seen enough and been home and looked around long enough to have thought out some things for himself. Then, too, Christmas had come, and gone, and he had found that what was left over from his army pay hadn't stretched far enough to buy a good many things he had wanted to buy when he saw the holly, the mistletoe and the green and red paper wreaths in the windows of the old town.

John Holloway was in a mood to make resolves and give the reasons for said resolves that afternoon. He and some of the "old gang" had been lounging in the warm and brightly lighted drug store for an hour when he said:

"You know over in France I found out that nearly every little old gardener and farmer and every shoe cobbler and carpenter had a lot of his 'jack soaked away in government bonds? It is a fact. I was never more surprised in my life than when I found out that the old women in the house where I was billeted had been saving money all those years and sticking it away a handful of francs at a time, in honest to gosh government bonds."

"Why you know that before we got into the war if anybody had told me about a government bond I would have thought they were talking about the bond that the judge says must be sighted if you don't want to get yourself slung into jail."

Of course we heard a lot about bonds when the "Libertys" come along, but even then I had it fig-

Testimony of a Kentucky Woman

Louisville, Ky.—"Some time ago I was in a badly run-down condition, had no energy whatever, was nervous and lost my appetite. I knew I was in need of a tonic and decided to try Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery, which had been recommended very highly. The first bottle helped me so much that I kept on with it until I had taken the fourth bottle when I was completely restored to health. I certainly recommend Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery most highly to all persons in need of a tonic and builder."—MRS. ANNA MURPHY, 1008 Prentiss St.

Stomach Trouble

Indigestion—Nervous—Sleepless

West Frankfort, Ky.—"For many years I suffered with stomach trouble; my food would not digest, it would sour on my stomach and gas would form and cause me to be distressed and cramped until I would be almost bent double with pain. I was extremely nervous, could not eat or sleep and was nearing a physical wreck. I was advised to take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It soon relieved me of my stomach trouble and built me up in health and strength. 'Golden Medical Discovery' did wonders for me and I am glad to give it a recommendation."—MRS. MARIA E. COX, 632 Kentucky Ave.

There is but one way to have good health, and that is to put and keep your stomach in good order. This is easy to do if you take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a wonderful tonic and blood purifier, and is so safe to take, for it is made of roots and herbs. Dr. Pierce of Buffalo, N. Y., stands behind this standard medicine, and it is good to know that so distinguished a physician is proud to have his name identified with it.

ured that the man who had the big money was the one they were for.

"You see I went across before the bond drives got to scraping down and getting the high and the middle and the low."

"But that was one swell idea the Frenchies had, and they had it first by a big majority. It works out mighty well and I feel pretty sure that the 'Froggies' didn't fight any poorer because they knew that they and their families had an absolute financial stake in that 'la belle France' they were always talking about."

"What's the idea anyway?" asked one of the half interested group. "Do you intend to go back over there and work for francs instead of dollars and stick said francs into French bonds?"

"For why should I do that?" argued ex-corporal Holloway. "Have we not finally got the same advantage over here, and in a darn sight better country than France ever was or ever will be? I'll say we have. And, boy, with a little old job and a little old luck I will be ridin' on the world next Christmas. I'm going to save me some money and to keep it from slipping through these fingers of mine I'm certainly going to take a leaf out of the Frenchman's book."

"Oh, all right, but what is the plan?" asked another idler, who was willing to go most anywhere but home.

"Why, I gets me a few dollars and buy me a 'beaucoup' War Savings Stamp," said Corporal Holloway. "I stacks away said W. S. S. for which I pay four bucks and some odd cents and I keep stacking them away out of the old pay envelope and come five years from now I have me a roll, interest having piled up on each and every buck that I put in there."

"It would beat the savings bank interest, at that," agreed one of the listeners.

"Forty said ways from the jack," went on Holloway. "Why it's just like shooting fish. Now I don't know anything about oil stocks or rubber plantations, or a patent device to extract butter fat from a Burbank squash, or any of the rest of these games that are fairly plentiful right about now, but I do know that the old government of the old U. S. A. has been paying off regularly away back yonder. Wherefore and therefore it is a safe bet that it is going right along on the old 100 cents on the dollar basis."

"The Frenchies put the idea into my head, I guess, but our own little old W. S. S. game back here beats it. It don't take much to get into it, either you can buy a stack of chips with four iron men and a few odd cents. Then you are in and you are not going to run up against any ace fulls with it, either. It may not be as fast as trench poker, either way, or as rapid as that 'nigger golf' we used to play under a mired down truck at the side of the road. But it is not 'forbid by regulations' and you surely will get somewhere with it."

"I've got my mind all made up to enlist in one of these War Savings Societies," he went on, "and I here and now make my biggest New Year resolve. You hear me."

And he got up, gave a hitch at where the old O. D. belt used to be, and rambled out to get a pocket full of W. S. S. circulars and hunt up a place to "enlist."

WHAT ARE THEY THINKING OF?

No one familiar with the facts will tax the Washington Post with undue friendliness to the present national administration. When, therefore, this paper propounds a pertinent question to the Republican Congress, it is likely to be heard with respect even if the answer is not immediate and satisfactory.

"One of the first duties of Congress is to put teeth into the laws which will enable the executive to grasp and throttle radicalism, expel or imprison anarchists, exterminate preachers of violence, exclude dangerous aliens and generally to clean America's house," says the Post.

"What is Congress thinking of, that it should delay in this matter?" the paper asks. Then the editorial indicates one or both of the causes in its next question. "Is it lacking in individual or committee initiative or courage?"

Attorney General Palmer has repeatedly pointed out to the Republican leaders of Congress that additional legislation is needed to authorize his department to deal with radicals and "reds." When once the task has been properly sanctioned by law there remains the need of money to enforce the statutes. Congress has refused both the authority and the funds.

President Wilson gave the Republican Senators a convincing proof that he was quite well enough to manage the executive affairs of the government. It is the Senate that seems to be unable to function. Let "Doctor" Moses decide whether it is illness or incompetence that afflicts his Republican associates.

HANDS, ARMS, LIMBS ASLEEP

And Was Run-Down, Weak and Nervous, Says Florida Lady.

Five Bottles of Cardui Made Her Well.

Kethleen, Fla.—Mrs. Dallas Prine, of this place, says: "After the birth of my last child, I got very much run-down and weakened, so much that I could hardly do anything at all. I was so awfully nervous that I could scarcely endure the least noise. My condition was getting worse all the time."

I knew I must have some relief or I would soon be in the bed and in a serious condition for I felt so badly and was so nervous and weak I could hardly live. My husband asked Dr. about my taking Cardui. He said, 'It's a good medicine, and good for that trouble,' so he got me 5 bottles. After about the second bottle I felt greatly improved, before taking it my limbs and hands and arms would go to sleep. After taking it, however, this poor circulation disappeared. My strength came back to me and I was soon on the road to health. After the use of about 5 bottles, I could do all my house-work and attend to my six children besides."

You can feel safe in giving Cardui a thorough trial for your troubles. It contains no harmful or habit-forming drugs, but is composed of mild, vegetable, medicinal ingredients with no bad after-effects. Thousands of women have voluntarily written, telling of the good Cardui has done them. It should help you, too. Try it. E 74

Howard's Mill

Everybody is busy stripping and delivering tobacco.

Press Belcher sold and delivered his crop to Carlisle for 60c straight. Charlie Combs and Joe Thompson took their tobacco to Lexington last week.

Taylor Howard's sale was well attended and things sold well. A wagon he gave $50 for three years ago sold for $100.00. Stock and cows brought from $48 to $78 per head. The writer and the community in general are sorry to lose these people from our midst, but they are not going so far but that they can come back fishing some time.

A narrow escape for English Beadle and brother, and Marion Thompson on Sunday night when going home from meeting. In making the turn above the bridge, in the fog the men ran off the pike and turned over. A guy wire from a telephone pole saved the machine from going to the creek. As it were no one was hurt.

Ora Howard, of Aberdeen, S. D., and Booney Howard, of Robertson, Ohio, are with their father for Xmas.

T. R. Mansfield, the great sportsman, killed a fox last week and caught a 61-4-lb. bass. Who can beat it?

Omer Staton and wife, of Hamilton, O., are here to spend Christmas with parents and relatives.

The writer wishes the Advocate and all who read it a merry Christmas and a happy New Year.

Mrs. Boone Howard's death on December 11—death invaded our midst so sudden and took our friend, our neighbor, Mrs. Alice Howard, aged 65 years, to the world beyond, where there is no weeping and no sorrow, while we cannot understand the mysterious ways of Providence and often wonder why he plucks the sweetest flowers from our homes. We can look forward to that day when we shall be permitted over there, where parting and sorrow are unknown. She leaves an aged husband, Boone Howard, three sons, Taylor, of this county; Booney, of Robertson, Ohio; Ora, of South Dakota, to mourn her loss. She lived a Christian life from her childhood, was a faithful member of the Howard's Mill Baptist church. It never got too cold or rained too hard for her to go, and minister unto the sick, and the needy. She worked with all her might. To the aged husband, who is bearing a grief which is indescribable, who is tottering down the shady side of life's pathway, to her sons and who miss her we can only say He will comfort and protect them here and may they so live that when the Angel calls they will be prepared to join her who is watching and waiting with outstretched arms at the gate for friend and neighbor.

XMAS DAY ATTRACTION

One of the merriest musical shows of the season will appear at the Tabb Theatre, matinee and night on Thursday, December 25th, when Lemons, Orth and Coleman will head the cast of "Fads and Follies," a breezy, lyrical entertainment full of funny and clever situations, enhanced by catchy melodies and a frisky, frivolous and jazzy beauty chorus. The show travels at airplane speed. It is like whirling between two lines of pretty girls, glad in gorgeous gowns, who sing real melodies while the three leading comedians, Lemons, Orth and Coleman, jest in passing. It has no plot to hold attention, but it has music which is real, girls who can both sing and dance, humor which, though subtle and open at times to various interpretations, is on a whole, unblushingly funny. Al Lemons, Lew Orth and Al Coleman are comedians who do not try to imitate anyone, but who stick to their own line of work and as a result produce more than half of the fun. The acts, or rather the "Fads and Follies," as it is programmed, follow each other with such rapidity that if any plot had been thoughtlessly provided, it would have been lost in the shuffle of brilliant costumes and dazzling changes. While Orth and Coleman have the main responsibility of the interpretation, they have surrounded themselves with a worth-while cast throughout, including Lillian Orth, Bessie Fox, Glenna Will, Harley Newland, Billy Murry, Edna DeSaules, Florence Clark, Gretna Murray, Lillian Gorman, Annie Fay, Bertha Smith, Bessie Freeman and the five tip-top dancers. An unusually fine line of specialties is always characteristic of the "Fads and Follies" and makes this entertainment delightfully different. Seats can now be secured in advance for both Xmas Day performances.

ATTRACTIVE GIRL BECOMES BRIDE

Miss Elisabeth Judy Becomes the Bride of Dudley W.
Hunter

The marriage of Miss Elisabeth Judy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robinson T. Judy, took place Saturday at high noon at the home of the bride's parents on North Sycamore street, the Rev. Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman officiating. The wedding was very quiet, only the members of the immediate families and a few close friends being privileged to witness the ceremony.

The bride, who is unusually beautiful, wore her going away dress, a most becoming tailored suit of dark brown duvetyne, with a small turban of cloth of gold. Her flowers were an artistic arrangement of pink rose buds. Miss Judy is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Judy and is a member of an old and influential family. Since her debut she has been very popular, not only in this city, but throughout the Blue Grass. Her lovely disposition, her charm of manner, and her winning ways have endeared her to a wide circle of friends.

Mr. Hunter is a native of North Carolina and comes of a prominent Southern family. He is a tobaccoist and last year represented the J. P. Taylor Company on the local market. He is now holding the responsible position of buyer for the same company on the Lexington market. He is well known and liked here.

The young couple left immediately after the ceremony for a bridal trip to New York and Boston, returning to Lexington after January 1st, where they will have apartments at "The Britling." At the close of the tobacco season Mr. and Mrs. Hunter will go to Henderson, N. C., to make their home.

Fine cigars, 25 in a box. Order yours now. Lloyd's Cafe.

PRODUCE MARKET

Receipts of cream the past week have not been heavy, but there has been a pronounced tendency toward lower prices on butter, due to light demand. For this reason there has been some decline in butterfat prices throughout the country.

There is still a large reserve stock of eggs in storage. Receipts of fresh eggs are very light, but high prices have curtailed consumption. There is little demand except for the finest quality. As it is late in the selling season for storage eggs, and as we are approaching the producing season on fresh, the market has shown easier tendency during the week on both fresh and storage eggs.

Poultry receipts have been lighter during the week, but there has been very little change in the price situation on the selling market. More poultry is being received in the selling centers than is being consumed promptly, and the surplus has been sent to the freezer.

Turkeys appear to be well cleaned up, and sold at a record price. The trade expects the balance of the remaining crop will be sold before January 1st.

FARM SOLD

On Saturday at the Court House door at 2 o'clock P. M., the farm of Mrs. Bettie Armstrong, located six miles from Mt. Sterling on the Maysville pike, with tenant house and barn, and containing between 53 and 59 acres, was sold to the highest bidder, Charles B. Dale, bringing $315 per acre. Persons wanting lands can consider this an object lesson. Lands continue to soar.

For bargains in trimmed and untrimmed hats, see Mrs. K. O. Clarke.

CHANGE IN MANAGEMENT

Stanley O. Wood, who has edited and managed the Mt. Sterling Gazette for the past ten years, with the exception of about a year spent in the Army, retires after January 1st as directing head of the local Republican paper, and will be succeeded by his uncle, W. Hoffman Wood. The latter was for several years connected with the Gazette and managed it while his predecessor was in the Army. The offices of the paper will be moved from Bank street to the old Postoffice building. Mr. W. Hoffman Wood will continue to engage in the real estate business.

The retiring editor and his wife, after a trip to the West, will return and probably locate in Kentucky. Stanley Wood will continue to figure in shaping the policy of the Gazette, though his uncle will be the directing head.

Stanley Wood is one of Kentucky's most gifted young editors, and has many friends who will regret to learn that he has relinquished charge of the local Republican organ. His uncle is an experienced newspaper man and will maintain the high standard set by his nephew.

The linotype machine, press and folder of the Gazette have been purchased by the Sentinel-Democrat, who will publish the paper for the new lessee.

MONTGOMERY'S OLDEST CITIZEN

Dies at Home of Matt Ford in the County, Aged 104 Years—
Was Remarkable Man

"Uncle" John Helton, aged 104 years, died Friday morning of the infirmities of old age, at the home of his nephew, Matt Ford, near Aaron's Run.

Mr. Helton had all his life enjoyed most remarkably good health and attributed that fact to his regular habits and active life. "Uncle Johnny" came to this county many years ago, settling in this county and engaging in the farming and trading industry. Up until a few years ago he took an active interest in farm work and only a year or two ago raised, unassisted, a small crop of tobacco, which he sold on the local market.

Mr. Helton is survived by one sister, Mrs. Anice Anderson, of this county, and three grandsons, J. E. Helton, of Nelson county, and Floyd and Boone Helton, of Menefee county. Funeral services were held Sunday, followed by interment in the North Middletown cemetery.

YOUNG COUPLE MARRY

T. Havens Brunner and Miss Clarkie Roseberry were married at the Christian church parsonage last Wednesday by Rev. Clyde Darsie. After the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Brunner left for a wedding trip to Cincinnati. Mr. Brunner is the son of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Brunner and is associated with his father in the shoe business. He is very popular with a wide circle of friends. His bride has been in the employ of the Cumberland Telephone Company and is a sweet and charming young girl. She recently came to this city from Nicholas county and has made many warm friends here.

COUNCIL SELECTS OFFICERS

At the regular meeting of the City Council last week John Cline was elected chief of the Fire Department. Clarence William clerk of the department and Dr. G. N. Cox City Physician. At the adjourned meeting, held on Wednesday night, Dr. M. V. P. Yeaman, Mrs. W. Hoffman Wood and Mrs. Thomas Heinrich were selected as the Board of Health. At this meeting the proposition to dispense with the City Jail and make some other arrangements regarding the driver for the fire truck, etc., was passed until a later meeting. The occupation tax ordinance with several changes from last year was read and adopted, there being only five members of the council present at this meeting—Hoffman, Petry, McNeal, Bondurant and Stockton. Mr. Hoffman would not vote for the retention of the occupation tax, saying that under the present conditions he thought this tax could be abolished or at least cut fifty per cent. The statement of the financial condition of the city shows that the city finished the year with something like $2,500 in the Treasury, the tax books for the coming year show a substantial increase and Mr. Hoffman voted his convictions.

MCCARTY ON POLICE FORCE

W. J. McCarty, of the firm of McCarty Bros., the widely known garage men, has been elected by the City Council to serve on the local police force. He will make an excellent officer.

CHRISTMAS

This festive occasion has its coming and how few pause in the passing to consider its meaning. Why do the wheels of all business rest and why this joy occasion? The 25th day of December is the accepted time as the birthday of Christ. It is just the accepted time for there are many opinions as to the exact day of the birth of Christ. Historians have thoughtfully perused all pages without agreement. Prior to the 50th century there was no consensus of opinion—the 6th of January, 25th of March, and 25th of December are dates contended for by the leading scholars of that time. There came others who believed the date to be May 20th, others that believe the 19th or 20th of April was the time, and yet others that named November 17th and March 28th. However, December 25th has been accepted by all and with it is the beginning of the celebration of the event of His birth. Why keep fresh in memory the advent of the son of God? Washington was the "father of his country," and in memory of what he was we remember the 22nd of February his birthday. Now here is a man who gave His life for the greatest of gifts—eternal life. This date is near and we are preparing to enter the festive season, thinking of Him, and rejoicing that a Savior was born. Glad will the little ones be on the morning of the 25th, Christmas Day, and to be taught why, would be an imprint worth much as the days come and go. For this day we are grateful in memory, a Savior born, and we should all rejoice as did those of old when they viewed the prophetic star.

In the celebration of this joyous occasion we should be reminded of the horrible war in which this country was only recently engulfed, and give thanks to God for this glad day of "Peace on Earth." These United States are now enjoying the greatest prosperity ever known, while millions are dying from hunger in foreign lands, yet the Prince of Peace is pouring out blessing upon blessing upon the people of America. This should indeed be an occasion of genuine rejoicing and we take this opportunity in wishing "A Merry Christmas to All."

PACKERS MUST GIVE UP

MANY SIDE LINES

A dozen or more of the important side line industries of the Chicago meat packers, involving an investment of many million dollars, will be disposed of under a stipulated decree, soon to be entered by the U. S. Supreme Court on a motion of Attorney General Palmer. Representatives of the packers refused to discuss details of the decree under which the packers in future will be required to confine their business activities to the production of meat, poultry, butter, eggs and cheese, but it is learned from an authoritative source that an outline of the plan has been agreed upon. It is said that the packers will be ordered to withdraw leather, canned fruit and vegetables, soap, cleansing powder, groceries, fertilizer, cold storage fish, refrigerator car lines,

ENEMY ALLOWED TO ESCAPE

Work of Remount Board Must Receive
Thoughtful Encouragement of All
Americans if We Are to Occupy
Place of World Leadership.

No phase of the vital subject of national defense is of higher significance than the proposition of military horse supply. The military side of American life means more now than the United States has, perhaps, assumed a dominant role in world politics, than it has in the past. It is agreed by farseeing statesmen that economic and political eventualities will in a decade or so force the United States into a position of military leadership in the world whether that sort of leadership may seem desirable to the great majority of the people or not.

It is hardly necessary to say that the great war proved that, more than ever is the horse, and the right sort of horse, indispensable to the successful prosecution of military operations. It is only a repetition to say that the United States, in the American expeditionary force in France last year and the year before was repeatedly and seriously embarrassed by the woeful insufficiency of its horse equipment and of the discouraging inefficiency of the horses that were sent overseas by the hardworked remount division of the army on this side, albeit these animals were the very best the country had to send. They were the comings of the entire country.

Supply of Allies Depleted.
The embarrassment of the arm's of the powers associated with the United States in the struggle against German world domination was not so great as was that experienced by the forces of Pershing, but it was serious nevertheless. The horse supply of Great Britain and France, although reinforced by tremendous importations from the United States, South America, South Africa, Canada and Australia, had been terribly depleted by the casualties of three years of fighting by the time our armies became formidable. No replacements were available.

Thousands of fine young lives were sacrificed in the titanic struggle that raged from the English channel to the frontier of Switzerland from the beginning of 1918 to the middle of November because the underhorsing of allied artillery limited the protection that artillery should have rendered to the attacking infantry. Ludendorf repeatedly refers in his story of the German defeat to merciful pauses (merciful to the hard pressed German army) in the French, British and American attack that enabled his commanders to extricate hard fighting divisions from perilous positions that were necessitated by the inability of the attacking artillery and transport services to keep pace with the advancing infantry.

Unnecessary hardship had to be endured by the combat troops of the advancing forces of civilization because poor horsing in the transport services rendered impossible the bringing up of supplies in punctual military fashion.

The fruits of victory were lost time and again because of the impossibility of promptly exploiting the achievements of infantry by the employment of large bodies of cavalry. The lack of cavalry at St. Mihiel, at Chateau Thierry, in the Argonne and at Sedan made American officers steeped in the traditions of Forrest and Stuart, of Pleasanton and Sheridan fairly cry. There were some so called cavalry regiments in the A. E. F., but they were not cavalry. At no time was a single American cavalry regiment mounted.

Victory Would Have Been Great.

Even the cavalry of the British and French armies, which had been fairly well horsed at the beginning of the war and more carefully conserved than had been the cavalry of the other members of the anti-German alliance, was found wholly insufficient to push home victory and convert mere defeats of the German armies into routs in comparison with which the French disasters of Sedan and Metz in 1870 would have been considered by the military writers of the future as orderly military operations.

The entente allies and the United States had about three and a half million soldiers in the field on the western front in October, 1918, when they began to press the previously successful Germans back toward the Rhine in deadly earnest. If 800,000 to 500,000 of these fighting men had been cavalry mounted on half bred horses, the best military opinion in this country and in France and Great Britain holds, the German defeat would have been the most complete and most humiliating defeat in military history. There would have been no fairly orderly withdrawal of the soldiers of the German Crown Prince, of Rupprecht, the Brute, of Van Galwitz, of Von Arnim and of Von Boehm across the Rhine to be received at home as unbeaten heroes. The bulk of the German forces that began their march thrust for Paris and victory in pride and insolence under the eye of the violet picking Hohenzollern paradise would have remained on the west bank of the Rhine prisoners of war to begin, when the peace conference directed the restoration of those portions of Belgium and France which they had so barbarously devastated.

Army Allowed to Escape.

There would have been no dickerings for terms, no impudent notes, no outrageous counter proposals to the moderate terms of the plenipotentiaries of outraged civilization. There would have been no malicious flooding of mines in the French coal country. There would have been no sabotage in French and Belgian industrial districts. There would have been no pirating of industrial machinery or wanton destruction of machinery that could not be hurried into Germany to give Kultur a commercial start on the countries Kultur outraged. The disintegrating German military machine would have had no time in which to put over the carefully planned scheme of giving Kultur industrial victory in spite of Kultur military defeat by converting lands already cruelly ravaged by German soldiery into industrial and agricultural wastes.

For generations to come peasant farmers of Belgium and France and industrial workers of Lille, Lens, Bruges, Brussels, Namur, Liege and Mons will deplore the lack of military foresight which failed to provide the armies of Great Britain, France and the United States which expelled the Teutonic invader from their countries in 1918, with adequate cavalry.—Adv.

on food and clothing. It has likewise been determined by the Commission that instead of making the attempt to regulate all kinds of prices on every commodity, a policy will be followed of selecting ten staples in groceries, five in meats and an equal number in clothing, as well as a few staples in shoes and establishing fair prices on these articles, which prices are to be based on the actual cost of the materials and not to be calculated on any replacement basis; in other words, the Commission is going to center its attention for the present on a few essentials of life, rather than the so-called luxuries.

With this information in hand, the facts are to be presented to the Fair Price Committee, the chairman of which will be appointed in a few days, which committee was formed and selected in accordance with specific instructions from the Attorney General in Washington, and with the confirmation of these prices,

District Attorneys Slattery, of Covington, and Gregory, of Louisville, assure us they will be able to prosecute successfully, under the extension of the Lever Act, anyone charging prices in excess of these figures. Instead of relying upon the mails the commission is sending two of its members to get selling prices on these staples in adjoining states and its investigators are actively at work procuring necessary data pertaining to local selling prices.

THE AMERICAN LEGION'S GOOD BEGINNING

New York Herald, November 14, 1919
Next to the election of Mr. Franklin D'Olier, former lieutenant colonel in the American Expeditionary Forces assigned to organize the salvage system in France, to the position of first commander of the American Legion interest centers upon the question of a bonus to soldiers, upholding the law of the land and the government's treatment of conscientious objectors. By an overwhelming majority the Legion put the bonus question squarely up to Congress, feeling legislation in its selfish interest and leaving with confidence to the Congress the discharge of this obligation." Provisions for the wounded and disabled soldiers were recommended to Congress. Resolutions condemning the War Department for its leniency toward conscientious objectors were unanimously adopted. Foreign language papers were assailed and recommendations made requiring all articles on political questions or condemning the government to be accompanied by an English translation in an adjacent column.

The spirit of pure Americanism and law and order pervaded the proceedings of the first convention of the American Legion, which, with the beginning it has made, should prove a power for good in this land.

PACKERS SURRENDER

What Attorney General Palmer terms the "surrender" of the packers will interest every housekeeper in the land, although there will be speculation and anxiety as to whether the consumer has won, through the Department of Justice, a real victory over the high prices of the period or a pyrrhic victory merely.

While there may be no early reflection of the "surrender" in the cost of necessities and luxuries of the table the triumph will remain important if it proves a preventive of a plan of gaining control of the various industries which provide the American table. That control of hotels, in addition to the producing industries, has been a part of the ambitious plan of the packers has been asserted, and of the ratifications of their plan for monopoly there seemed no end.

Large scale slaughtering, packing and distributing has presented certain definite advantages. The meat industry was, for example, mobilized before the mobilization of the army began in the recent war. It was ready to follow the flag, even to precede it, with sustenance for soldiers. Its well lubricated machinery was of positive value at a time when celerity was the all-important factor in serving the military establishment, and other needs of the government, and the demands of our allies. But there is wide difference between large scale production of table meats and monopoly of table supplies, with the accompanying strangulation of competitive producing enterprises, and resultant power to fix prices by decree.

The Attorney General says the packers will be prevented from exercising further control over the marketing of livestock, and from controlling the retail meat trade. It eliminates them from the field of meat substitutes, with a few important exceptions, "left for future consideration and appropriate action," and "therefore the price of meat is within the control of the people themselves."

The price of meat may be in control of the people to the degree that they may exercise the option of buying meat from retailers uncontrolled by packers, or buying meat substitutes from somebody else, but that this will mean that consumers will find any means of pulling high prices down under the conditions of the period is not clear.

"Greater than all it establishes the principle that no group of men . . . can control the food table of the American people. . . ."

The public, recalling that the dissolution of Standard Oil established a principle without accomplishing a purpose, will hope, rather than feel confident, that the "surrender" is not a feint, and that the packers will not make it necessary for the government to renew its attack under the rights of inquiry it retains in an effort to procure what is promised in the way of withdrawal from the industries the packers have sought to absorb. Whether any marked recession of prices will follow the victory remains to be seen. It easily may be believed that all which might have been accomplished through tedious suits to force dissolution has been accomplished through the "surrender."—Courier-Journal.

The Cost of Upkeep

A run-down business is like a dilapidated house, the cost of putting either one back on its feet is often greater than it would be to start all over again.

To let the telephone run down, in quality of service or in mechanical equipment, would mean far more than a loss to the telephone company, it would mean a loss in business to every user of the telephone.

It has always been the policy of the Bell Telephone Company to keep its property in such repair that its subscribers receive the greatest possible benefit.

But to keep things "ship shape" requires money, more money today than ever before. Materials cost more and wages have increased in an attempt to keep pace with the increased cost of living.

The Bell Telephone Company is working hard to make ends meet, to keep its property in proper operating condition—and to pay wages which will secure the most intelligent and loyal service for the telephone user.

YOUR loyalty to the telephone will make it easier for us to serve you.

DO THE BEST YOU CAN

When you've done the best you can,
Face the outcome as a man.
If you've kept your record true,
Failure leaves no stain on you.
If you've fairly fought to win
Till the last return was in;
You may keep your head erect,
You've done all that men expect.

Life demands no prize of gold
When your story shall be told;
Nor does God command your soul
To attain some far-flung goal.
Men have bravely fought and died,
Missing all for which they tried;
And yet glorified on high
By the deeds they dared to try.

Not by victory alone
Is man's earthly glory shown!
He who does the best he can
Has fulfilled his Maker's plan.
This is all life asks of you;
That you keep your record true;
That you do not sell your soul
Or play false to reach your goal.

Work and wait and face the fray
With such courage as you may.
Fight for truth with all your might;
Give your utmost for the right.
And then fail or even die
But be glad you dared to try!
For you quit this life a man,
If you've done the best you can.

SUGAR REPORT

The High Cost of Living Commission is still receiving a great many complaints about the high price of sugar. The price of sugar in Louisville ranges all the way from 11c to 28c per pound. The dealers who sell the high price sugar claim that the wholesaler cannot or will not furnish Eastern sugar and that they are charging from 18c to 20c per pound wholesale, for the Louisiana sugar. We cannot understand why they cannot get Eastern sugar at Eastern prices in this district. A great many of the complainants seem to feel that there is a falsification somewhere and that the scarcity of sugar as heretofore suggested so artistically was for the purpose of selling the high price sugar in this market, therefore the commission has started an investigation which will reach from Louisville to Washington and will report the result to the people of Louisville through the press as it develops. We note an erroneous statement has been circulated with reference to the sugar board. The sugar board still has jurisdiction over sugar and sugar prices and we are going to request that said board take up the Louisville situation and use our best endeavors to get Eastern sugar into this market if the wholesalers can be induced to handle it. We do not believe that it is impossible to get Eastern sugar that can be sold at the usual sugar profit for 12c a pound, therefore we are in hopes of being able to fix a price at not more than 12c within the near future.

It is only fair to state that the retailers, we find from our investigation, are not always profiteering in sugar and other staples but are obliged to pay, in many cases, these exorbitant prices to the jobber, and that the jobber in some instances in turn, are not profiteering, but likewise have to pay exorbitant prices to the producer, making it necessary that the correction of the present condition will have to take place at the source of production, making it exceedingly difficult for this commission as they are most always outside of our jurisdiction, but where local profiteering is prevailing or where prices are charged or based on replacement basis instead of the actual cost, the District Attorneys will begin prosecutions.

Warts Are Contagious.

Warts are contagious, as is proved by experiments on their own fingers made by Drs. Udo J. Wile and Lyle B. Kingery of the University of Michigan Medical School. These physicians seem to have proved that the warts are caused by some sort of a virus that passes easily through a filter and therefore through the usual human skin.

Intemperance a Danger.

As love and self respect are the pillars of the house life, so intemperance is the certain destroyer of the home, attacking as it does the very fabric upon which it rests. Very many people imagine temperance refers to abstinence from, or moderation in drinking spirituous liquors, beer or narcotic drugs. But it is possible to be intemperate in words and actions.—Exchange.

"Conscience Fund" Contributions.

The "conscience fund" is presided over by an officer in the division of public moneys. All letters accompanying remittances are filed away, and although the writer's name is very seldom given in the letter, the treasury department tries to acknowledge receipt of the money by sending an account of its receipt to the newspapers in the town from which the money is sent.

The railways of the United States are more than one-third, nearly one-half, of all the railways of the world. They carry a yearly traffic so much greater than that of any other country that there is really no basis for comparison. Indeed, the traffic of any two nations may be combined, and still it does not approach the commerce of America borne upon American railways.

—United States Senator Cummins.

Ask Any Doughboy Who Was "Over There" and he will tell you that American railroads are the best in the world.

He saw the foreign roads—in England and France, the best in Europe—and in other Continental countries—and he knows.

The part railroads have played in the development of the United States is beyond measure.

American railroads have achieved high standards of public service by far-sighted and courageous investment of capital, and by the constant striving of managers and men for rewards for work well done.

We have the best railroads in the world—we must continue to have the best.

But they must grow.

To the $20,000,000,000 now invested in our railroads, there will have to be added in the next few years, to keep pace with the nation's business, billions more for additional tracks, stations and terminals, cars and engines, electric power houses and trains, automatic signals, safety devices, the elimination of grade crossings—and for reconstruction and engineering economies that will reduce the cost of transportation.

To attract to the railroads in the future the investment funds of many thrifty citizens, the directing genius of the most capable builders and managers, and the skill and loyalty of the best workmen—in competition with other industries bidding for capital, managers and men—the railroad industry must hold out fair rewards to capital, to managers and to the men.

American railroads will continue to set world standards and adequately serve the Nation's needs if they continue to be built and operated on the American principle of rewards for work well done.

HABIT WITH BOTH OF THEM

How Spanish Diplomat at Brussels Countered on Nervous and Autocratic German General.

The press of Brussels recalls many an incident connected with those first unforgettable weeks of the German occupation. Among other stories which the Brussels people tell is the one describing the interview between Burgomaster Max and the German general, Jarowsky, to whom had been intrusted the negotiating of the conditions of occupation. The interview took place at the town hall in the presence of the American and Spanish ministers. Burgomaster Max was very calm and this seemed to have an irritating effect on Jarowsky. At any rate, he suddenly placed a revolver on the table. The marquis of Villalobar, the Spanish minister, without uttering a word, took a Browning out of his pocket and laid it beside the revolver. Mr. Max, unruffled and phlegmatic, took a pencil and placed it gently between the two. The German general saw fit to smile: "It is a habit," he said. The marquis de Villalobar answered: "It is a habit with me, also." And then the negotiations began.

How will you answer them, coal miner, food producer, merchant, manufacturer, teacher, preacher, day laborer, clerk or banker? Are you doing your utmost to relieve the world by work, work of brain and brawn, work to which you can look back with satisfaction on that great final day when some shall hear, "Well done, good and faithful servant," and others shall hear the just condemnation of a just and righteous God?

Work, and more work; work to the last ounce of strength and to the highest degree of efficiency; work such as the soldier gave on the battlefield amid the roar and crash of cannon and the death-dealing rifle and the hell-devised bomb; work in a spirit of sacrifice and unselfishness; work, because upon every man's work will rest in part the death or the life of some poor, innocent sufferer—this must be the inspiring thought in every man's life.

Profits and wages are not today the supreme issue. Both are important, vital in their way, but they sink into insignificance by the side of the mighty issue of saving the world from the forces of evil which fatten in the agonies of the starving and freezing people.

Are you working in this spirit?—Manufacturer's Record.

A BIG CHANCE FOR EX-SERVICE MEN

A special ruling allows all former service men, no matter when discharged, to reinstate their insurance on or before December 31, 1919, on statement in their applications that they are in as good health as at the date of discharge, or at the date of the expiration of the grace period for the payment of premiums, whichever is the later date, and payment of two months' premiums on the amount of insurance to be reinstated. After December 31st, the privilege of reinstatement will be limited to the period of 18 months following the month of discharge, or 12 months following the month of lapse, if reinstatement is made after 18 months following month of discharge.

As only two months' premiums are now required for reinstatement, a former service man who paid more than two months' back premiums in reinstating prior to July 26, 1919, can, on application, obtain credit for any premiums so paid in excess of two and have the overplus applied toward future premium payments.

The Bureau of War Risk Insurance wants the service men to know what their rights are as to government insurance and the methods by which this insurance may be retained or reinstated. It is to the interest of every service man whose insurance may have lapsed or been cancelled to apply at once for reinstatement. To wait may mean disaster.

Check or money order should be made payable to the Treasurer of the United States and, with the application, sent to the Premium Receipt Section, Bureau of War Risk Insurance, Washington, D. C.

"ARMSTRONG"

In its report of the "A. S. J. Armstrong" deal, which was a last-hour political sensation of the recent State campaign, the grand jury of Fayette county finds no evidence of improper motive in the former board of control, but it flays Eugene Ray and Thomas Ryans, whom it paints as two profiteers who used "Armstrong" as a tool in unloading the dry goods upon the State at an exorbitant price. It declares the board of control advertised for bids and that "Armstrong" was the only and, therefore, the lowest bidder. It is not clear how deeply the jury went into all ramifications of the incident, for the good of the State, to which the episode, although sprung by politicians, is less a matter of politics than of morals, one hopes the investigation was thorough. As it is, the public must infer from the jury's report that members of the board were at least "easy."

Undoubtedly the transaction had an element of mystery about it which was not cleared up satisfactorily by the statements of the board of control at the time of its exposure, and which was not palliated by the silence of many of those who were involved or by the complete and continued disappearance of the perplexing "Armstrong." The behavior of the principals did more to arouse than to allay public curiosity, although the approach of an election should have induced prompt manifestation of frankness. When the new board of control gets to perusing the record it might contribute some additional assistance to the labors of the Fayette jury by delving into the "Armstrong" case, not in the interest of politics, but of the public's right to all the further aid it can get in arriving at the precise truth concerning the State's business.

It is presumable that the grand juries of Jefferson and Franklin counties, to whom the subject was also referred by Governor Black, will sooner or later make report. They have not been heard from.—Courier-Journal.

BACK TO THE SIMPLE LIFE

The surest way back to old-fashioned price levels is to shop with the old-fashioned market basket and occasionally use old-fashioned corned beef and other fine and palatable but cheaper cuts.

E. A. Cudahy, president of the Cudahy Packing Company, gave that advice to the buying public in his annual report to the stockholders of his concern.

In other words, Mr. Cudahy preaches back to the simple life. He would have us return to the ways of our grandfathers, who ambled off to market in the early morning hours, with his basket on his arm, and came back loaded with good things for the day, or several days. Sometimes, of course, he came back with a double cargo—one inside and one outside—but that is another story.

Government attempts to regulate the cost of living and insistence of the public on having the best regardless of cost are prime factors behind present price levels, Mr. Cudahy said.

Discussing the first, he said: "If we had less arbitrary control and if we had had such high prices of commodities as would have been the case under normal and uncontrolled conditions increased production, coupled with the enforced lessened consumption, would have followed more surely and the situation would have reached a permanent normal level with less confusion."

On the subject of extravagant buying he declared:

"There has been an abnormal demand this year for articles of the highest price and quality. Everybody has wanted the best and has seemed to have the money to pay for it. If there was a better demand for the cheaper cuts it would have the most beneficial effect all around."

RETIRED COUNCILMEN

We have not attended regularly the council meetings of the past few years, but we have attended some of them, and of the retired councilmen, Mr. A. R. Robertson, Dr. W. B. Robinson, William Apperson, J. Wells Wilkerson, J. F. Frazer, William Burns and Henry Botts, we desire to say, every one of them, served well their respective wards and the entire city as well. In the first ward we were especially interested and we are free to say Messrs. Robinson and Frazer, in all their official acts, met with the approval of all the people except chronic knockers. They gave thought to what was presented to them and if they got wrong they asked at the very next meeting to correct that wrong. Of the new council we expect to have more to say, for it is our intention to be at all the meetings and of the acts of the council each month to keep the people informed.

CANNY SCOT MAKES CHRISTMAS SELECTION

Nearly everyone has heard the tale of the cigar dealer, who, with the Christmas spirit working within him, invited all the customers in his shop on Christmas Eve to have a cigar. When he asked them to make their selection all took cigars or cigarettes except one Scotchman who said: "I'll take a dime out of the till."

Many an unjust story is unloaded upon the Scotch but most people feel about other Christmas gifts as the Scotchman felt about the cigar. He didn't smoke cigars and did not want one, but did want the gift. We want and value the expression of friendship and good will and affection that Christmas gifts carry, but many times we do not want the non-useful and inappropriate and ill-considered gifts selected to carry that expression.

The possibility of that feeling in others should influence the selection of every Christmas gift. At this time, when the country and every citizen is facing a period of reconstruction and economic change, it is both a duty and a privilege to select useful and appropriate gifts, gifts which will add to the well-being and prosperity of the individual and the country as well as to the pleasure of both giver and receiver.

Such gifts are not far to seek. Government savings securities do answer to every such requirement. They will be appreciated as much next July as on Christmas morning. Ranging in price, as they do, from the 25c Thrift Stamp, the $5 War Savings Stamp and the $100 and $1,000 Treasury Savings Certificate they accommodate themselves to any purse.

They carry in addition to their intrinsic value and their surety of profit the impulse to thrift, a gift which is priceless both to the individual, the community and the nation. When you select them as gifts, Gulf Stream.

The current of water through the ocean, which is commonly called the Gulf Stream, is of varying width at different points. Its width, according to the conditions that influence it, may vary from 45 to 100 miles, and its course also varies slightly from time to time. In popular usage the name is often applied not only to designate the Gulf stream proper, but much of the oceanic drift of the north Atlantic.

Writer's cramp has been defined as a disease of those who do too much writing, especially with the hand too tightly contracted. A person with this trouble has not complete control over the muscles of the thumb and middle and fore fingers, which are brought into use in writing. The various methods of treatment used so far have not proved altogether successful. Among the methods used are surgical operations and application of electricity.

402 ACRES OF THE CREAM OF THE BLUE GRASS REGION

At Auction Saturday, Dec. 27th

IN TWO TRACTS

AT 10 A. M., ON THE PREMISES

Elmhurst has been used for generations as a trotting horse farm. See the tobacco market. The tobacco sold from this farm averaged about $1,100 per acre. Look at this virgin soil and rich old blue grass sod, which equals, in plain English, your money back quickly, and still leaves you the proud possessor of some of the best located and finest and most desirable land in Central Kentucky. Blue grass forty-six inches high was entered in the Herald contest from this farm last summer. Can you afford to miss this opportunity of buying such property at your own price?

TRACT NO. 1—Consists of about 150 acres, 75 acres in rich old blue grass sod and virgin soil and 75 acres broke out of sod this year, now in rye. It is well fenced and well watered by pond, pool that has never failed, well and two cisterns. This tract is improved by an exquisite brick residence of 10 rooms, reception hall, breakfast room and bath, hardwood floors, newly papered throughout by C. F. Brower & Co., press in every room, excepting the two having lavatories. Finished attic over entire upstairs and 6-room basement under house. This house is gas lighted and has a gasoline engine in cellar that pumps water through the house from either cistern or well, assuring an adequate supply at all times. Brick garage and smoke house, frame servants' house and 6-room tenant house, and hen house, with enclosed poultry yard, are in fine repair. This beautiful country home is located and well back from the pike on a sloping wooded lawn with macadam drive.

This tract is further improved by 1 large stock barn with running water, 1 cow barn, 2 corn cribs (1 frame and 1 steel), one 15-acre tobacco barn, built this year, is newly painted and has stripping room attached, and one small tobacco barn.

TRACT NO. 2—Consists of about 252 acres, adjoining Tract No. 1, and has 60 acres in wheat and barley recently broken out of the sod; 20 acres of clover and orchard grass sod; 70 acres of virgin soil. It is well fenced and well watered by two ponds, one pool and two fine cisterns.

This tract fronts on the Winchester pike in beautiful virgin woodland and has macadam drive back to the old Estill home. It is improved by a 10-room brick dwelling, all necessary outbuildings, two tenant houses, one new combination stock and tobacco barn on concrete foundation that will hold 20 acres of tobacco, one 15-acre tobacco barn built this year (both barns are newly painted and have stripping rooms attached), one 10-acre tobacco barn, one machine shed and one colt stable.

This farm was recently purchased from Crutcher Brothers, by the present owners—C. E. Buckley, of Versailles, Ky.; T. C. Geary, of Lexington, Ky.; Lon McLoney and Kirk Ammerman, of Cynthiana, Ky. This sale will dissolve the above partnership, and each tract must be sold regardless of weather, price or consequences. Terms: Ten per cent. cash on day of sale; 23 1-2 per cent. March 1, 1920; balance in three years. For further information, see Crutcher Brothers, who live on the place, or the present owners.
